THINKING OF SELLING?

Collections come on the market for many reasons. Often a collector sells an area of lesser interest to finance new areas of collecting interests. Others are leaving the hobby entirely, and often collections come from executors of estates.

To those selling through our auctions, our terms to vendors are a commission of 10% of the gross realization. Consignments must total at least $500. There are no lotting, photographing, or insurance charges.

The vendors who consign material for sale in our auctions are always guaranteed of thoroughly researched lotting, extensive advertising both here and abroad, and an outstanding catalog presented to a very strong, international clientele.

We also buy for cash and this year have purchased numerous individual rarities and large collections in the mid to high five figure dollar range.

How may we serve you?
